THINGS ARE NOT ALWAYS WHAT THEY SEEM

THE DEER ISN'T CROSSING THE ROAD
THE ROAD IS CROSSING THE FOREST.

the rationality which produced it is left standing,
then that rationality will simply produce another factory.’
